A LOGICAL SAVAGE.

War He Silenced a Missionary in an Argument.

"I used to know in Australia an intelligent and interesting missionary," said an English nobleman. "He and I were talking one day about the natives of New Guinea, and he told me that one of these natives had stumped him in a certain argument. It seems that he had accosted the native and told him to let himself be civilized. 'But what good,' the native asked, 'will this civilization of yours do me?' 'Well,' said the missionary, 'you will cease, for one thing, to idle all your time away. You will learn the rights of honest labor.' 'What good will the labor do me?' 'Through it you will gradually accumulate money, and in time, with industry, you will possess much store of money.' 'The native was still unconvinced. 'What good will the riches do me?' was the next question. 'They,' said the missionary, 'will enable you to cease from work at last and to spend the rest of your days in idleness.' 'The native laughed. 'It seems to me,' he said, 'that if I am as you say I would be taking a pretty roundabout course to get to the place I started from.'"

INDIA RUBBER.

Form of structure Which Permits It to Be Elastic.

Modern physics teach us that the molecules of all bodies are in a state of constant motion; that the intimate structure of matter is, in fact, a reproduction of an infinitely minute scale of revolving suns and planets. In gases and liquids this motion is of an extensive range, but in solids it is of a very restricted range. The movements of the molecules are restrained, and they merely oscillate or rotate about a certain mean position, the range of motion being very wide range of variation in molecular distance without rupture of the substance.

DOCTOR OF DANCING.

The Title Was Given to Beauchamps by Louis XIV.

In France during the reign of Louis XIV. dancing took a very prominent position among court festivities, and the members of the royal family were not in the complex ballets of the time. Louis himself, no mean performer, took lessons for twenty years from Beauchamps, who was called the father of all dancing masters and upon whom the king conferred the title doctor as a special mark of favor.

Beauchamps had the honor of appearing as partner with the king in the minuet, a dance which was introduced in 1650 in France, and no court ball was opened in Europe for a century and a half without it.

About the year 1661 a royal academy of dancing was formed under the auspices of Beauchamps, Lull, Moliere and others, the object of which was to elevate the art and check all abuses.

Of this academy Beauchamps was chief, with the title of director.—London Telegraph.

A Story of a Scholar.

Theodor Mommsen, the famous historian, had not only the appearance but the manner of a scholar. Once during the half hour's drive from Berlin to Charlottenburg the car in which the professor rode went badly off the track. The rest of the passengers alighted, the horses were removed and the stranded car was left until help could be found. Mommsen remained, reading his book. An hour passed, and the sound of levers and jacks and the plunging of horses' hoofs aroused him from his reverie. With no sign of discomposure he arose from his seat and went to the door. "Ah," said he, "we seem to have come to a standstill."

Maine Counties.

The three original counties of Maine had good old English county names, York, Cumberland and Lincoln. Only two, Oxford and Somerset, have been similarly named since, all the rest having good American appellations. For the names of Androscoggin, Aroostook, Kennebec, Penobscot, Piscataquis and Sagadahoc find their origin among the aborigines, while Franklin, Hancock, Knox and Washington bear the names of distinguished Americans of the white race.

A Feet in Growth.

"I lost my foot in the war," said the tramp, "and I'm trying to raise enough money to get out to California."

"What do you want to go to California for?" asked the woman at the door.

"Oh, I've heard that there are things which grow a foot in a day out there."

—Yonkers Statesman.

The Deceivers.

Miss Verjuice—What a shame it is how the men deceive us poor women! Miss Bluehouse—They would never get a woman to marry them unless they did, my dear.—New Yorker.

In Luck.

First Citizen—Aren't you drinking a little more than usual? Second Citizen—Yes. My wife has a cold in her head and can't smell a blamed thing.—Albany Journal.

The Value of a sunny soul.

The world is too full of sadness and sorrow, misery and sickness. It needs more sunshine. It needs cheerful lives which radiate gladness. It needs encouragers who will lift and not bear down, who will encourage, not discourage.

Who can estimate the value of a sunny soul who scatters gladness and good cheer wherever he goes instead of gloom and sadness? Everybody is attracted to these cheerful faces and sunny lives and repelled by the gloomy, the morose and the sad. We envy people who radiate cheer wherever they go and fling out gladness from every pore. Money, houses and lands look contemptible beside such a disposition. The ability to radiate sunshine is a greater power than beauty or than mere mental accomplishments.—Success.

The Best Qualified Graduate.

It is the custom of the graduating class of the medical department of Queen's university of Kingston, Canada, to designate by ballot the fellow student who they believe could be expected "to do the right thing under all circumstances." The successful student is honored with a special prize by the faculty. We believe that such a man is really the most capable of his class and if not identical with the gold medalist is probably his superior in all that goes to make up the scientific and successful practitioner.—New York Medical Journal.

Aloes.

The most valuable aloes come from the island of Sokotra, which lies just off the east African coast from Cape Guardafui. The drug itself is the bitter resinous juice of the leaves of the aloes plant that has been hardened in the sun. These leaves are of a fibrous, fleshy nature, and, in addition to the juice, the natives make this fiber into rope, many insisting that it makes a better rope than hemp.

Cause and Effect.

Mrs. A.—You say brandy is a good remedy for colds, but I don't agree with you. Mrs. B.—What do you know about it? Mrs. A.—A great deal. Before I had brandy in the house my husband never had colds more than once or twice a year, but as soon as I kept a supply he had colds almost every day.

A Different Thing.

"I didn't suppose that Cupid could move a stony hearted man like Jones." "Cupid has nothing to do with it. Cupidity is what moved him."—Detroit Free Press.

Ambition is pitiless. Every merit that it cannot use is contemptible in its eyes.—Joubert.

We hate to share our chores, but, Himmell! how chencorous ye was mit our troubles.
